The Art Showdown

If you're looking for something a bit different – a bit more unique – then you are in for a treat this autumn. There are some fabulous shows that bring together the best talent of young, contemporary and emerging artists, alongside more established names. I have pulled together my pick of the best: if you can get to Moniker, I'd love to see you there and will even have a chance for you to win your own artwork!

Moniker

October 15th -18th

Old Truman Brewery

Moniker Art Fair is now one of the premier events for contemporary art, with its roots embedded in Urban Culture - not to be missed if you like your art a little more edgy, pop and street.

I will be there and would love to meet the Aspect County readers – mention the magazine to me and I will enter you into a free prize draw to win a piece of modern art.

Brighton

20 - 27 September -

Brighton Dome Corn Exchange

A major annual event in the arts calendar of the South East, you'll find an eclectic mix of the most talented painters, printmakers and sculptures. This is a great opportunity to meet the artists in person.

Float Art

7 – 11 October 2015

Bargehouse, Oxo Tower Wharf, South Bank.

Open everyday 11am – 6pm. Admission Free

Returning in its third year, FloatArt London showcases and celebrates the work of selected graduate artists from a wide range of disciplines from installation, performance, fine art, photography, sculpture and other visual arts. Displaying the best of this year's graduate class, this is your chance to uncover the stars of the future.

Cambridge Art Fair

2-4 October

The Guild hall Cambridge

Cambridge Art Fair, now in its third year, this is one of the few fairs outside London that combines traditional art from the 19th century, modern masters from the 20th century and contemporary work by many of today's celebrated artists. Come to the beautiful city of Cambridge and see Pablo Picasso & Salvador Dali, side by side with Tracey Emin and Sir Peter Blake. AC
